As part of our quality control processes, we have identified that the sheath of the rope may wear suddenly during falls, no longer providing adequate protection to the core of the rope. Although this rope complies with current standards, it does not meet our quality requirements and our commitment to ensuring maximum safety for climbers.

As a precautionary measure, we therefore ask you to stop using your product immediately.

We invite you to return your rope to your nearest DECATHLON store, where you will be refunded.
