

DECATHLONPRODUCT RECALL*NABAIJI

Customer safety is at the heart of DECATHLON's concerns. As part of our quality and safety initiatives, we have decided to recall the product below.

We ask that you no longer use this product and follow the instructions below :

You purchased the product Baby inflatable float between 02/01/2023 and 06/23/2023.

Why is this product recalled?

We have identified an overturning risk of the user.

In case of reversing there is a drowning risk because the child is tied by the buoy and his head could remain underwater without any possibility of finding back the right position.

Even if the use of our buoy must be under parent's supervision, we don't want to take any risk with children's safety, that is why, by way of precaution, we recall all products involved.

Thank you.

We invite you to go to return your product to your nearest DECATHLON store.

Your product will be refunded to you.

Our customer relations center is available to answer any questions.
